HIMSS (Health Information and Management Systems Society) Northern California is committed to furthering the educational experiences of Health Information Technology (HIT) students by facilitating internships at Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHC's) and Community Clinics. The program has two basic goals:

- ◆ To provide a student majoring in HIT with hands on experience in a clinic where technology is in use or being implemented; and
- ◆ To provide the clinic or health center a resource to help further their use and/or adoption of IT in a healthcare environment.
